

Dear Potential Donor,

Please consider supporting Camp Coral, our annual two-week intensive marine conservation summer camp for youths ages 11-18, by donating food and supplies or sponsoring a child to attend. Under the guidance of licensed expert SCUBA instructors, campers will earn internationally-recognized SSI Open Water Certification with Gulfport Dive Center. They will put their new certification to work planting coral and exploring the underwater world.

Your tax-deductible donation will provide scholarships that will give a camper, who otherwise couldn't afford it, a unique exposure to Florida's beautiful marine world.

The camp's main objective is to inspire and guide youths toward a lifetime appreciation for marine conservation and a deeper understanding of delicate and vulnerable marine habitats. It immerses students in Florida's marine world through a host of scheduled activities that start in St. Petersburg's beautiful coastal areas and then down to the keys for a once-in-a-lifetime diving experience.

This fun-filled, action-packed schedule includes:

- ~Open Water Dive Certification/ or specialty certification
- ~Open Water Dives
- ~Coral restoration
- ~Sustainable fishing experience that travels from hook to plate.
- ~3D Printing, VR, Submersible Drones and ROV experiences
- ~Kayaking through beautiful coastal mangroves

Species discovery excursion, in partnership with Mote Marine, in Sarasota.

The highlight and focus of the camp is the SCUBA training. Campers will spend the first week getting certified and taking one open-water dive off the shores of St. Pete. Week two puts the dive training to work through an unforgettable experience. Campers will assist in a coral restoration project in the Florida keys in partnership with the Coral Restoration Foundation.

The camp's myriad of marine-centered activities are designed to inspire the next generation to respect and care for our ocean. This camp fosters marine stewardship, exploration, sustainability and leaves all attendees a lifetime of memories and insight into the various careers that marine sciences offer.

By supporting a camper, you can expose this life-changing camp to underprivileged youth and potentially impact the course of their life, so please consider sponsoring a camper or supplying food and supplies.
